Masterlink Lower South Island
Regional Manager

Before joining Masterlink I was the Trade Sales Supervisor at Plumbing World Queenstown. I fell in love with the industry and all that comes with it, especially the people and their passion for the trade.

I have lived in Queenstown for nearly 20 years and cover the Lower South Island Region for Masterlink. I travel around Central Otago down to Invercargill and all the towns in between.

My values include staying true to myself and being loyal. I have a strong work ethic and put my heart and soul into my work. Reliable and dedicated, I am very self-motivated, a good communicator and thrive on putting myself out there.

I believe it is important to make sure the needs of both hosts and apprentices are met. I maintain regular contact and check in to see how everything is going to help apprentices along their apprenticeship pathway. I want the journey we have together to be a positive one, and make sure both parties are satisfied and focused on that end result.

My ultimate goal is to help the apprentices thrive, complete their apprenticeship and watch them achieve their goals. It is a rewarding experience to be part of their journey, helping them make a difference and watching them grow. It's a big world out there, and it's great to know that with Masterlink's guidance and the efforts of their hosts, they've completed, succeeded and accomplished.

In my spare time I play netball and manage and coach my daughter's netball team. When I find a spare minute, I enjoy looking for trinkets in second hand stores – I love everything vintage. I'm married with four kids and one dog. We live in a beautiful place, so we like to get out, explore and enjoy our surroundings together.
